Frascio was founded in 1945 as small workshop. Since then, thanks to a well-planned development, evolved into the international company of today. Today Frascio boasts thousands of customers all over the world. The core business is made by the foreign market.

Frascio presents itself to the public with a fresh and attractive corporate image, and a collection of dynamic and contemporary door handles. Because renewal and progress are the conditions to keep up with time and to be really competitive. With the 2010 collection, Frascio continues its journey round the world of design. The cooperation with Roberto Semprini, Adrian Wright and Brian Sironi founded the top models of this year: they will enrich the complete new line that was created from the internal Planning Office and the Technical Development, with the usual professionalism and quality.
